GERMAN SUBMARINE VISITS NEWPORT, R. I.

DELIVERS MESSAGE FOR AMBASSADOR

UNDERSEA FIGHTER HAS GUNS MOUNTED AND TORPEDO TUBES IN PLAIN VIEW

Remains Only Three Hours—Commander States He Called Simply To Mail a Letter to Count Von Bernstorff—Asks for News of Bremen— Had Been At Sea Seventeen Days.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 7.—Seven-teen days from Wilhelmshaven the Imperial German submarine U-53 dropped anchor in Newport Harbor today.

Almost before the officers of the American fleet of warships thru which the stranger had nosed her way had recovered from their astonishment, the undersea fighter had delivered a message for the German ambassador and weighing anchor turned Brenton's Reef Lightship and disappeared beneath the waves just inside the 3-mile limit.

As she came and went she flew the black and white colors of the German navy, a gun was mounted on the forward deck and another aft, while eight torpedo tubes plainly visible under the forward deck gave mute assurance that the warship was ready for a fight.

Lieutenant Captain Hans Rose, who hung up a new world's record in bringing an armed submarine in battle array across the Atlantic, said he had called at Newport simply to mail a letter to Count von Bernstorff.

The submarine was in American waters a little more than three hours, assuming that she continued to sea after submerging. Within that time the German commander paid official visits to Rear Admiral Austin (Knight) commander of the Second Navy District and Rear Admiral Glaves, commander of the destroyer squad of the Atlantic fleet. Both American officers returned the brief call promptly.

At the forts and naval station the feat was the one subject of conversation tonight and there was much speculation as to her mission and whether it was confined to the postage of a letter to the German embassy. The first question asked by Capt. Rose when a motor came alongside was: "Have you heard from the Bremen?"

When he was told there was no news of the missing craft his face became grave but he made no comment.

To the navy men generally the most interesting fact disclosed by Capt. Rose was that he had been at sea 17 days and still had provisions for three months, abundant fuel and needed no repairs. Not so much as a bottle of water was taken aboard and the ship was spick and span.

The U-53 was first sighted from land at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon as she was entering the inner harbor escorted by the United States submarine D-2. The American vessel had been outside for maneuvers since morning and was returning when she came up with the German.

The first report had it that it was the Bremen which was coming in. A newspaper man who had watched for weeks for the merchant submarine climbed to the tower of the United States Engineers' office and with the aid of powerful glasses made out two guns on the submarine.

A few minutes later he was in a motor boat making for the craft and was rewarded by being taken aboard. The U-53 had made her way thru the fleet of 37 United States warships, including destroyers and submarines to an anchorage 200 yards to the westward of the torpedo station. Captain Rose stood on the quarter deck as the correspondent came aboard and after inquiring about the Bremen, said he had come in to mail a letter to Count von Bernstorff and asked for the newspaper man's credentials.

The latter exhibited an Associated Press badge and was intrusted with the correspondence for the ambassador. "Please forward this letter to Count von Bernstorff," said the captain, "and report my arrival. They will be glad to hear it."

The correspondence contained in a single envelope was mailed at the local postoffice at 2 o'clock.

about an hour later. It should be at the German embassy early tomorrow morning.

Commander Rose appears to be about 38 years of age. He is of more than medium height, with dark hair and blue eyes. He wears a pointed beard and his moustache is cropped short. About him as he talked to the newspaper men were grouped four officers and the crew of 33 members. The officers were in the blue uniforms of the German navy and looked as if their clothes had been brushed and dressed for the occasion. The crew wore black oil skins.

Lieut. Capt. Rose wore a fatigue uniform with side arms. On his breast was an iron cross and other decorations. He declined to talk about his adventuresome trip across the Atlantic except to answer a few questions in a casual way.

"We left Wilhelmshaven seventeen days ago," he said. "We encountered heavy seas until we were off New Foundland. The voyage however was uneventful. Some days it was rough and some days it was smooth."

"We have water and provisions enough for three months to come," he added.

"Where to? Ah," replied the German commander and he smiled. Asked whether he had sighted any foreign warships off shore Capt. Rose asked, "Are there any?"

At this moment Harbor Master Thomas Shea came alongside in a motor boat to make an official examination of the stranger. Soon after she had anchored a fleet of pleasure boats surrounded the U-53 and several persons including a number of women were allowed to come aboard. They were permitted to roam at will about the deck. Several of the crew spoke English fluently and they gave every attention to the visitors. No attempt was made to prevent an examination of the boat's construction.

The U-53 is a monster submarine. Her length is sixty five metres or more than 200 feet with corresponding beam. She appeared larger in every way than any of the submarines of the L type that now are operating in Narragansett bay. Her conning tower and her periscope rose much higher than those of the American vessels.

Thru the periscope the visitors could plainly see many familiar points in Newport. The vessel was equipped with wireless, the outfit being particularly strong. The receiving room for the wireless was just below the coning tower.

The quarters for the crew were equipped with bunks that closed up against the vessel's side. Aft of the sleeping quarters were the officers' mess room and the galley in which all cooking was done with electricity.

As she was at anchor, the submarine flew the imperial navy flag at her stern and the naval jack at the bow.

Admiral Knight said his caller had not told him where he was going, but merely that he would put to sea tonight. He added that Commander Rose had not indicated the object of his visit to this country and that they had only exchanged felicitations. From the war college the German commander went to the flagship and after a brief stay with Rear Admiral Glaves returned to his ship. A few minutes later the American admirals visited the U-53 and were shown over her. The commander told his visitors that it was his first visit to America.

Soon after Admiral Knight and Admiral Glaves had left the submarine weighed anchor and turned her prow toward the open sea. The pleasure boats that had hung about her harrassed in pursuit but they were soon outdistanced by the submarine which started away at a speed of 18 knots. She sailed at 5:17 o'clock.

STEAMER BURNS OFF VIRGINIA CAPES

Ward Liner Antilla Afire; Ship's Company Takes to Lifeboats

PASSENGERS ABOARD

Twenty-Six Ships Pick Up Distress Call and Spread It Broadcast

SOMERSET TO RESCUE

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 7.—A wireless message picked up shortly after nine o'clock tonight from the Ward Liner Antilla said the steamer was afire 120 miles off the Virginia Capes and that her ship's company was taking to the lifeboats.

The Antilla is reported to have a large number of passengers aboard.

At 10:15 o'clock another message from the Antilla stated that the passengers and most of the crew had taken to the small boats and that the wireless operator expected to be forced to leave at any minute. He urged boats coming to the aid of the steamer to hurry.

The message telling of the plight of the Antilla was picked up by the wireless operator at 8:40 o'clock. It was directed to the coast guard station at Cape Henry and asked that cutters be sent at once to the steamer's aid saying "all on board are taking to the boats."

Shortly after the first message was picked up the wireless operator said that 26 or 27 ships had taken up the call and were spreading it broadcast offering to go to the aid of the burning ship and directing vessels they believed to be closer to the Antilla to proceed there. One ship whose name was missed by the land station in the confusion secured an answer from the Antilla shortly after nine o'clock when she inquired whether there were passengers aboard. The reply said: "Yes," but gave no number.

The vessel Somerset which is said to be the closest to the Antilla was located at 9:20 that she was proceeding under full steam to the location given in the first message from the Ward liner.

DENIALS FAIL TO DOWN PERSISTENT REPORTS

Rumors Still State Gerard Has Word From Kaiser.

Dramatic Arrival of German War Submarine Only Serves to Add to the Circumstantial Chain of Events.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Official denials from all sides fail to down the persistent reports that Ambassador Gerard returning from Berlin is bringing direct word from Emperor William asking President Wilson's intercession for peace.

The dramatic arrival of the German war submarine U-53 at Newport with a package of dispatches for Count von Bernstorff, just before he has an audience with President Wilson on Monday, only served to add to the circumstantial chain of events upon which those who believe the current story of Mr. Gerard's home coming base their expectation that some momentous development is about to take place. The German embassy tonight denied any knowledge of the nature of the dispatches or the mission of the submarine in American waters.

State department officials after making informal denials of the Gerard stories for the last week took notice of it officially for the first time today by issuing this statement:

"We have no reason to believe there is anything in it and every reason to believe there is nothing in it."

The only tangible element connected with the story is a complete set of denials. Still it is considered so circumstantial and has been pieced together from a chain of consecutive events in such a way that it is given a measure of credence both in Europe and the United States.

One possibility that stands out is that President Wilson himself may know some reason for Mr. Gerard's homecoming that is not known to the state department or the German ambassador.

It is being pointed out that while Mr. Gerard may not be bringing any request from Emperor William for President Wilson's intercession, he might have knowledge that the emperor would not reject a new offer made entirely upon the initiative of the United States.

It is an axiom in conducting peace negotiations that premature publicity defeats them, and those who believe there is something in the air at this time are not losing sight of it.

Wholly aside from any connection with the peace movement the sudden arrival of a German war submarine in the waters where the American battle fleet has its summer rendezvous aroused a wave of speculation as to her purpose. At any rate, her immediate departure relieved the United States of any troublesome problems of neutrality.

Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador called at the state department where it is admitted that the arrival of the U-boat was casually discussed.

The presence of the submarine in the lane of Atlantic liners carrying their heavy cargoes of munitions to the allies is regarded as one of the most sensational developments of the war. It was suggested today that the U-53 might lie in wait for troop transports from Canada or she might carry the warfare into the British naval bases of Halifax or the West Indies.

Commander Rose's statement that he has supplies for a long time has brought out suggestions that the U-53 was equipped for an extended campaign on this side of the Atlantic and that more of the new submarine fleet, which has been heralded from Germany as something that would startle the world, might be expected.

War News Summarized

British and French have again joined forces in an extended attack against the German lines on the Somme front. The British attacked from the Albert-Bapaume road, while the French attack was along the line of the Peronne-Bapaume road.

Gains ranging from a quarter of a mile to two thirds of a mile were made and the Anglo-French front was considerably straightened out. The two forces are now engaged in an advance along the two sides of a triangle formed by the two roads, the apex of which is Bapaume.

The British captured the village of Sars which lies about a mile and a half northeast of Couzelette, while the French according to the war office communication brilliantly attained all their objectives.

Entente Allies forces are pressing hard upon the Teutonic and Bulgarian troops defending occupied territory in the Balkans. Both in Macedonia and Dobruja, the invaders have been compelled to give ground before attacks.

On a front of ten miles northeast and east of the Struma river, British troops have occupied five villages and have repulsed a Bulgarian attack against Novolien. Further west on the Macedonian front in the region of the Cerna river, the Serbian troops have edged out from the Kaimakalan plateau and advanced detachments have reached the Bela Voda river, about 16 miles east of Monastir.

French troops have occupied the town of Geiman on the eastern shore of Lake Presba, near the western end of the Entente line. In the region of Lake Butkova near the Belaschitz plateau, Italian troops have advanced.

Russian and Roumanian forces have taken ground from the troops of Field Marshal von Mackensen in Dobruja. The Russians have occupied two villages and have repelled attacks. Advancing along the right flank, the Pomanians have occupied some trenches and report the checking of attacks in the center.

An unconfirmed wireless message from Rome received in London says another Roumanian expedition is reported to have crossed the Danube into Bulgaria apparently behind the lines held by Field Marshal von Mackensen. Despatches unofficially say there have been artillery duels along the Danube but does not specify in what sector.

Petrograd reports fighting in both Volhynia and Galicia and claims the repulse of Austro-German attacks in these fields. The artillery fire on the Somme front continues but virtually no infantry actions are reported by the belligerent capitals. Berlin states that the artillery battle has spread to north of the Ancre river.

In Transylvania the Austro-German troops continue to advance. The Roumanians who retreated across the Alt river are being pursued thru the Geister forest, Berlin reports. Bucharest mentions little activity in this section of Transylvania but says the Roumanians have returned to the offensive near Petroseny. Grand Duke Nicholas continues his offensive along the Black Sea coast in Armenia and reports the capture of the Petrakala fortifications from the Turks. Constantinople claims the repulse of Russian attacks along the coast and a Turkish advance in the Ognott sector to the south.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Two American ships, the Harvita and the Columbia, have been sunk, according to a despatch received by the Norwegian minister in Petrograd from H. A. Falsen, the Norwegian consul general at Archangel, Russia, according to a Reuter dispatch from Christiania, Norway.

WILSON APPEALS TO INDEPENDENTS

President, by Inference, Attacks Both Hughes and Roosevelt

CRITICISES OLD GUARD

States Democrats Present United Front for Passage of Progressive Legislation

COME IN PRIVATE TRAIN

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 7.—Returning from his first invasion of the middle west since the campaign opened, President Wilson, appealed to independent voters to support the Democratic party in November on the ground that it presents a united front for the passage of progressive legislation, while the Republican party is made up of discordant elements which can accomplish nothing.

Criticizing the old guard of the Republican party, the president by inference attacked both Charles Evans Hughes and Theodore Roosevelt and declared that while every line of his national policy has been assailed, "No diagrams have been drawn of any other."

Mr. Wilson charged that "the old guard" was in control of the last Republican convention and "made all the choices that were made by that convention."

The president spoke to a delegation of Progressives, Independents and college men who came here in a private train and marched to Shadow Lawn with a band playing popular music while they sang a song with the refrain: "He's kept us out of war."

Mr. Wilson was introduced by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale a member of the Roosevelt Conservation Commission, and Hugh Gordon Miller, a New York Progressive, who denounced the leaders of his party who have gone over to the Republicans. In the delegation also was the "Wilson guard," made up of former football stars.

President Wilson's speech here today was in part as follows:

"We are indeed at a critical juncture in the affairs of the world and the affairs of the world touch America very nearly. She does not stand apart. And in the midst of this situation we are about to determine whether we shall change the line of our national policy."

"Fortunately the lines of this campaign have recently been becoming very clear indeed. The choice is a very definite one, which does not require any subtle analysis for its determination. On the one hand there is party democratic which is united, made up of congenial elements and which has determined its direction by its performances and not by its promises."

On the other hand what have we? It baffles descriptions. Men of every sort and every variety of purpose. I will not say united, but associated for an unwavering object. More interesting than that and more ominous than that, shot thru with every form of bitterness, every ugly form of hate, every debased purpose of revenge and every covert desire to recover secret power, a party made up like the occupants of the ancient cave of Adullam, of every body discontented and insurgent against existing circumstances."

"What would happen if the Republican party should succeed on the seventh of November. If I were a leader of that party I would be afraid to get elected. I would know that nothing but futility and disappointments awaited me. Because, oddly enough, the only distinct definitions of purpose come from the collateral branches of the family. The only articulate voice, a very articulate voice, professes opinions and purposes at which the rest of in private shiver and demur."

"The United States has now to choose whether it will have a government for the people or a government for the special interests. The mask is off; it always was transparent. It never reached below the lips and you could see the cynical smile underneath. A blaze of righteous patriotism in the eye, but a cynical hardness about the lips. They want possession of the government. They want control of the treasury of the United States. They want direction of the business of the United States. They want the termination of the foreign connections and policies of the United States. They want session of the legislation of the United States in order that the comfortable partnerships, four years ago broken up, may be restored."

Even while the world is wondering what has become of the German submarine Bremen, another submarine, the U-53, has established a wonderful record of making the under sea journey from Germany to the United States in seventeen days. The coming of the craft furnishes another example of German bravery and seamanship but gives no added proof of the possibilities of developing this type of traffic in any degree to have any marked effect in either mercantile or war affairs.

Too Good to Be True.

The New York Evening Post story that Ambassador James W. Gerard, now on his way back from Germany, will lay before President Wilson a request to use his good offices in securing peace with the allies, is too good to be true. Count von Bernstorff declares that the story cannot be true and the knowledge of the previous attitude of Berlin on peace proposals also serves to contradict the rumor. Influential men who have watched the conflict hold the definite opinion that when peace comes it will not be from a third party but a direct proposition following a series of conferences between representatives of the belligerents themselves. In the view of these men the time when there was any possibility of peace proposals of an acceptable kind being presented thru intermediaries from a neutral nation has passed.

The Democratic campaign text book contains a declaration that the wealth of the country has increased $41,000,000,000 in the last four years, and credits the figures to an "estimate of the Department of Commerce." But when asked in writing if it had made any such estimate, the Department denied that it has made any estimate of wealth since 1912. So the figures were faked. But even if the figures were well founded, they would make a poor showing for the Democratic administration. During the eight years under Republican rule prior to 1912 the average annual increase in wealth was 9.4 per cent while the average annual increase from 1912 to 1916, if the $41,000,000,000 estimate were correct, would be only 5.5 per cent.

What the Estate Tax May Produce.

The revenue from the estate tax is conjectural. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, the estimate is only $20,000,000. But when it is in full operation it is believed it will realize above $50,000,000 and possibly $65,000,000. This will depend, naturally, upon the mortality among the very rich. It is a good deal like calculating an undertaker's receipts a year in advance. This tax is also graduated. On an estate not exceeding $50,000 the "death duty" would be 1 per cent. From above $50,000 and up to $150,000, 2 per cent. From above $150,000 to $250,000, 3 per cent, and so to 10 per cent, for an estate appraised above $5,000,000. It will be seen that the tax is much more severe than that on incomes. For instance, a $50,000 estate ought to realize an income of from $2,250 to $2,500. This income runs below the normal income tax figure. A $50,000 estate would have to pay an inheritance tax of $1,200, whereas an individual married and living from the income of such estate would not be taxable unless he put out his funds at reckless rates of interest. —From "The New Taxes" by Charles E. Speere, in the American Review of Reviews for October, 1916.

Falsity in Advertising.

The first instance of a fine imposed under the false advertising law has been recorded at Washington, where a clothier was fined $300 and costs and ordered committed to the jail for sixty days. The jail sentence was suspended contingent upon further offenses. The incident gives expression to the higher plane of advertising today by comparison with that of ten or fifteen years ago. In those days it was possible for the merchant to advertise most anything and "get by with it." The most startling values were offered, in many instances without regard to the facts.

But with changing sentiment and the realization of merchants that aside from the principle involved it was not good business to falsify advertising statements, there came the present law upon the statute books. The advantage of the law is that it gives protection to the public and also protects those merchants who have no thought other than fair honest treatment of the public, from the unfair competition of merchants who, planning only for a short time in business, believe they can win dollars by fooling the public. The false advertising law, like other new statutes, is testimony to improvement of ideals in business and a reawakened public conscience.

Hill's Clean Dollars.

The inventory of the estate of the late James J. Hill, unlike that of a great many wealthy men, shows that the railroad builder was worth more money even than the public had usually believed. The inventory shows property to the value of fifty two millions and because of the present high price of many of the stocks he owned, it is believed that the actual figures will be nearer the one hundred million mark. The career of James J. Hill, notable in so many ways, was especially conspicuous because in his financial ventures and railroad operations he was never accused of "watering stock" or of obtaining wealth by the manipulation of railroad properties for his benefit as against the well being of other stockholders.

His fortune was based upon his wonderful wisdom and foresight. He built railroads actually and not upon paper. He developed the country thru which his railroads passed and introduced methods which brought about agricultural, stock raising and manufacturing business which in the end produced freight for his roads to haul. It is a wonderful thing to amass a great fortune, but it is still more wonderful to acquire it under such conditions and have the world believe that while acquiring millions, an actual and great benefit has been done to the country.

Has Risen by Earnest Effort.

Carl E. Robinson, who is the Republican nominee for state's attorney, has made an unusual record during the comparatively short time in which he has been practicing law, and has had some valuable experience in the courts. People of the county who know Mr. Robinson intimately are aware that he has made his own way to the front by tireless energy and force of will. Without funds he started in to secure an education and by dint of hard work passed thru his college course and graduated with honor. Then came a period of teaching to secure funds for his law work and finally after the years of effort he reached the goal of admission to the bar.

During his long period of struggle in his own behalf Mr. Robinson was not unmindful of certain home obligations and those who know him well are familiar with the fact that his years, while given to so much self effort, have by no means been selfish. A young man cannot go thru such experiences without their having the deepest effect upon his character and manner of life and it is so with Carl Robinson. Since he has been a lawyer the same honesty of purpose—the same energy and earnestness have marked his course as in the earlier days.

As a candidate for state's attorney voters have in Mr. Robinson a young man whom they can support with full knowledge that if elected he will measure up to the duties and responsibilities of the important office.

INSTALLED NEW FILTER

A new pressure filter tank has just been added to the equipment of Barr's Laundry, the installation having been complete Saturday. The laundry has been using gravity filters located on the roof of the building but they have been found objectionable because they do not work well during severely cold weather. With the new system water under city pressure will pass thru a filtering substance contained in two large tanks situated in the basement of the laundry building.

The Free Kindergarten school will open Monday, Oct. 9th, in the New Room in the David Prince Building. Entrance from Jordan street, first room to left.

The campaign for membership in the Y. M. C. A. closed in a blaze of glory Saturday evening. The goal set at the beginning of the week was 375 members and when the last count was made it showed a total of 396. The winning team was the Hudson's composed of Walter Bellatti, Percy Jenkinson, Fred Hopper and Lloyd Cully.

The Fords were second and the Maywells third. Those in charge of the work have reason to feel proud of the result. Saturday night the local Y had moved up another notch in the percentage column and stood fifth. It will not be known until Monday whether the campaign will result in a state victory. However, the local men who made the canvass feel highly elated and even if state victory does not come they feel that a local victory has been achieved. The score of the various teams at the close of the contest follows:

	Saturday	Totals
	M. P's.	M. P's.
Hudsons	30 125	83 467
Fords	21 145½	68 400
Maxwells	28 126	61 288
Chevrolet	7 39½	11 66
Cadillac	2 14½	15 60½

JACKSONVILLE MEN SEE DAIRY DEMONSTRATION

Throng of 25,000 Crowds Litchfield Saturday for Dairy Day Festivities—The Prizes Given.

L. T. Potter, G. B. Miller and William C. Thompson were in Litchfield Saturday to attend the monster dairy day celebration, given under auspices of the state food commission. There was speaking by dairy experts and a contest in cattle judging. Addresses by Governor Dunne, Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey and W. Scott Matthews, were a feature of the day. There was a big parade in which more than three thousand school children took part. Estimates place the attendance at 25,000 and certain it is that during a portion of the day there was hardly standing room in the Litchfield streets.

Cash prizes to the amount of $3,000 were given, by railroads and Litchfield business men, and this together with prizes of live cattle, gave to the winners in the stock judging contests a large reward.

Aeroplane flights were provided for the entertainment of visitors. The Litchfield Elks put on a farce comedy and also staged a mock bull fight.

To care for cars usually parked on the square arrangements have been made to use the Billy Sunday lot on East Court street, and two officers will be there to superintend the work.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Friday evening Mr. Barton came to the city in his Haynes automobile to visit his daughter who is a student at the Woman's College and while they were out riding east of the city at the end of the cement road they collided with an unknown driver who crashed into them and damaged their car to a considerable extent. They were not at all to blame as they were on their own side of the road and not going at an unduly rapid gait. The car which struck theirs was not injured and the driver pushed on without waiting to see what mischief he had done. Fortunately no one was hurt. The car was hauled to the city and is awaiting repairs.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

Campaign Thunder

My friends, when I'm elected, the people, now dejected, will bid farewell to grief; I'll make their sorrows bubbles, to all their tears and troubles I'll bring a prompt relief. The people now are groaning; for justice they are honing, and home for it in vain; but when I am elected, an end may be expected to all the stress and strain. The tyrant and the spoiler now rob the humble toiler, their feet upon his neck; but when I am elected the tree will be erected on which they'll swing, by heck! Oh, men with spades and axes! they burden you with taxes—that is the tyrant's plan! But when I am elected all laws will be rejected which tax the working man. The rich men ride in motors; on foot you go, O voters, your feet all seamed with scars; but when I am elected on which they'll swing, by you'll all have choo-choo cars. Alas, my friends and neighbors, you're wearied by your labors, your strivings gall and irk; but when I am elected a change will be detected—no man will have to work!

ENCAMPMENT ANNIVERSARY

Temple Encampment No. 19 has plans under way for a big celebration the first Thursday night in December, when the third anniversary will be observed with fitting ceremonies and with a good program.

CARLETON COLLEGE JUBILEE

Northfield, Minn., Oct. 7.—The 50th annual convention to the Congregational conference of Minnesota will be held here the week beginning tomorrow. The meeting also will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of Carleton college by the conference and preparations have been made for an appropriate celebration of the golden jubilee.

Altho the Congregational conference of 1866 took the initial steps looking to the establishment of the college, originally called Northfield college, the first real beginning of the institution was in the fall of 1868, when Horace Goodhue arrived fresh from Dartmouth to take charge of the work. At that time the college was housed in an old hotel, which was used until the regular college building was completed. Willis hall was built in 1871, and with its completion the college was firmly established, altho not without a great struggle. The first president was Rev. James W. Strong, chosen in 1870. In 1871, thru the efforts of President Strong, Mr. Carleton presented $50,000 to the institution, and the name was changed from Northfield college to Carleton college in his honor.

At the present time Carleton boasts of a group of magnificent buildings, including several halls of instruction, commodious dormitories, a well-equipped observatory and a library of 25,000 volumes.

A KING WITHOUT A THRONE

Paris, Oct. 7.—Of the three kings who have been living in exile in France since the war drove them from their thrones the saddest and most pathetic figure of all is the venerable King of Montenegro, who today passes the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth, surrounded by the devoted members of his family and a handful of faithful followers who are sharing his exile.

Albert of Belgium and Peter of Serbia may safely look forward to an eventual restoration of their dominions, with possible large accessions of territory, but for Nicholas of Montenegro the return of peace will have nothing in store, no matter which group of Powers is victorious in the great war. Should the Central Powers win, Montenegro would be either incorporated with Austria, or else it would be made to serve as a province of the reconstructed kingdom of Albania. If, on the other hand, final victory rests with the Allies, as now seems inevitable Montenegro, which is peopled in the main by Serbs, will be assigned to King Peter to compensate him for the heroic struggle of the Serbians against the Austro-Germans and their Bulgarian allies.

Losing the fine chucking of Hughes and Allen was sufficient to cast the Braves' pennant chances into the discard. The two stars were not only the cream of the Stalling staff, but were also one, two in the list of National league pitchers.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS TO INSTITUTE COURT

Impressive Ceremonial Session Will Be Held Here Today—Well Known
Citizens Petition for Charter.

Today Columbus Court No. 1868, Catholic Order of Foresters, will be instituted in this city. The ceremonial session will be held in M. W. of A. hall. State officers and members of the order from various towns will be present. The Illinois state court degree team from Springfield will conduct the initiation. At 1 o'clock a preliminary meeting for the purpose of transaction of necessary business will be held when all candidates must be present. At 3 o'clock the ceremonies of institution will begin and candidates will receive their degrees. After a charter had been granted on a petition of a number of well known residents, Columbus Court was organized by John M. Steinmiller, state organizer of Chicago, assisted by William P. Saner, of Jacksonville, who has for a long time been a member of Sacred Heart Court, No. 264, Springfield. Until the recent arrival of W. M. Mathews, a member of a Chicago court, Mr. Saner was the only resident forester.

Order Has Grown Rapidly
The Illinois court will be under the Illinois jurisdiction of the order, which also has authority in Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma. It was in 1883 that the Catholic Order of Foresters was organized in Chicago and the order now has approximately 150,000 members in twenty eight states of the union and eight provinces of Canada. There are 400 courts in this jurisdiction 250 of that number being in Chicago, and the membership totals 45,000. That the order is in splendid financial condition is indicated by the fact that the reserve fund September 28, 1916, totaled $6,015,149.07. The gross annual interest income on present bond holdings is $283,719.15.

Membership is open to practical Catholics of all nationalities between the ages of sixteen and fifty years and benefit certificates are written for sums of $500, $1,000, $1,500 and $2,000. The records show that the Order of Foresters has since its organization paid out $22,000,000 in death claims in addition to disbursing many charitable and relief funds. One of these funds has been $27,082.04 for the Catholic church extension society.

Mr. Steinmiller has been in Jacksonville for a number of weeks attending to the preliminary details of the local organization and has shown himself a tireless worker in the cause. In addition to insurance the Order of Foresters offers social and educational advantages. In Chicago, where there are so many courts it can readily be understood how important the social feature becomes. Sunday, October 22, the annual banquet for Chief Rangers of the order will be held at the Hotel Sherman and arrangements have been made for 2,000 plates.

Local Petitioners
The petitioners for the charter of Columbus court were as follows:—Francis C. J. Saner, Anthony D. R. Saner, Wm. J. Craddock, Oscar C. Crabtree, Robert Leo Hegarty, Daniel Doolin, Michael D. Hefferman, Louis A. Steer, Patrick Francis Doolin, Louis A. Pieper, Leo Jos. Clancy, Walter J. Quinlan, Edgar J. McGinnis, Lawrence P. Quinlan, John Francis Crowe, John Frank Sullivan, Frank C. MRS. CORNELIA SANDERS
LIFE CLOSED SATURDAY

Thru the Years—Held Distinctive Place in Social and Educational Life of City.

Mrs. Cornelia Ruth Sanders, widow of the late Professor William D. Sanders, passed away at her home, 1011 West State St., at eight o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 7, 1916, in the eighty-sixth year of her age.

Mrs. Sanders was the daughter of Ezra and Amy Grinnell Smith, and was born in Peru, Huron county, Ohio, on December 2nd, 1830. After completing her early education at Miss Willard's famous seminary at Troy, N. Y., she was, in 1850, married to William D. Sanders, came, after a few years to Jacksonville and made, with her scholarly husband, her own distinctive place in the attractive intellectual and social life of the college community—a place which she has maintained with undiminished influence for over sixty years.

It was the successive and successful periods of Mr. Sanders' professional career as pastor and preacher, as instructor in Illinois College, and as head of young ladies "Athenaeum," and "Illinois Conservatory of Music," both of which he founded, Mrs. Sanders threw herself with a spirit of enthusiastic cooperation, and she delighted in the social atmosphere which was, in this way, created for her home. From the beginning, her interest in, and devotion to her church has been unflinching.

It will be difficult to speak of the strength and the charm of Mrs. Sanders' character, and of its influence, in terms adequate to the warmth and depth of appreciation universally felt for it, without seeming to do violence to that sensitive reserve which was one of her prominent characteristics.

Her childlike simplicity of spirit; her vigorous interest in life; her twinkling sense of humor; her phenomenal thoughtfulness for others, even in her hours of pain; her unstinting hospitality; her passionate love for children and for flowers; the delicacy of her sympathy; the steadfastness and warmth of her affection; her gratefulness for any smallest favor; yes—her very spirit of self-effacement itself compelled attention to her, in spite of her desire to avoid it.

In a peculiar sense Mrs. Sanders belongs to the community; she has herself fastened our claim upon her, for no other place in Jacksonville has such a history of hospitalities as the quaint and familiar yellow house, with its lawn, great trees, old fashioned gardens without and its long vista of social memories within.

From the days when, elsewhere, lawn parties were unknown, the street before her house would be lined with the interested and curious watching the gay scene of gathered companies on the Sanders' lawn.

to the last years of Mrs. Sanders' life, her house has been the most frequent social meeting place of college faculty, literary clubs, Ladies Education society, mission circles, and its chambers have been the refuge of the wayfaring preacher, the traveling missionary, the convention delegate, and the weary and worried pastor. Dearest of all, perhaps, were the little children, or the young people, who responded instinctively to the tender, motherly, but still youthful receptiveness of their loving little hostess.

And as her house, so also her garden! Dear for and in themselves as they were to herself, they were for others quite as truly; so that there was never a day that missed the flow of benefaction to the sick in hospital or weary chamber, to the beloved friend in health, to the needy or to the neighbor, or the returned traveler, to the lonely—or the child.

This recital, so unnecessary for the people who have lived beside her here, will be allowed as a glad but insufficient recognition of a debt and a feeling of loss the entire community would acknowledge. It is proof again, moreover, of the gentleness that makes great; of the power of an unseeking, unselfish power of an unseeking, unselfish community with a permanent blessing. In all the qualities of person; manners, mind, heart, ideals, and spirit, Mrs. Sanders represented, among us, the gentleness of a past generation, and of a type rare enough now, but, we hope, not altogether extinct.

Four children survive: William B. and Clarence E. Sanders of Cleveland; Charles S. Sanders and Cornelia Sanders Elliott, wife of Frank Elliott of Jacksonville.

The funeral service will be held at the home, 1011 West State St., on Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

KINDERGARTEN WILL OPEN FOR WORK MONDAY

Miss Hopper Will Be in Charge
Again—New Quarters Have Many Advantages.

Miss Claribel Hopper will this year again be in charge of the Free Kindergarten, which will open Monday in its new quarters in the David (Prince) building. The enrollment this year is expected to be exceptionally large and the year's work begins in a very promising way. The prevalence of infantile paralysis in various parts of the state had made advisable postponing the opening of the kindergarten but the feeling is that danger is now past.

The new quarters are on the ground floor of the David Prince building with entrance from Jordan street, and in granting the use of these rooms the board of education conferred a favor which is much appreciated by the kindergarten board. The October meeting of the kindergarten board will be held at the public library October 15 at 3 p. m. Officers and committees are as follows:

President—Rev. J. F. Langton.
Vice president—Rev. E. B. Landis.

Treasurer—Miss Ida Marsh

FARMERS' UNION HEAD
FAVORS PROTECTION

In Memorial to Congress Declares
That There Should Be No Such Thing as Hyphenated Tariff.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 7.—In a memorial to Congress issued today entitled "The American Farmer and His Government" H. N. Pope, President of the Association of State Farmers Union Presidents, favors protection on all agricultural products, declares that no country can thrive half protected and half free, insists that there is no such thing as a hyphenated tariff and asks that cotton be protected by a twelve cent minimum loan from government. The memorial which goes into an exhaustive analysis of the subject says in part: "A policy of universal protection is in the interest of the American farmer for he sells more than he buys."

"Protecting the factory without protecting the plow is an unpardonable discrimination and should not be tolerated by the farmers of the nation. Neither should any one agricultural product receive protection unless all agricultural products receive protection."

"It matters not whether a tariff is levied for protection or for revenue."

"It offers to industry the same assistance, there is no such thing as a hyphenated tariff."

"No matter what one's views may be of the governmental policy of protection or free trade all will agree that no country can reach its highest degree of prosperity half protected and half free. This country should assist all industries or none."

REV. H. B. WILSON WILL BE PASTOR AT STATE STREET

Formal Notice Received that Call Sent Hillsboro Minister Has Been Accepted—Will Reside on West College Ave.

The officials of State St. Church through T. M. Tomlinson received the welcome news yesterday that Rev. H. B. Wilson of Hillsboro will accept the call tendered him by the church to become pastor and expects to be here about the first of November. This will be welcome news to the people of that body as they have been for some time without a regular spiritual leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson visited the city a few days since and looked over the place and met a number of the people who were well pleased with both. Mrs. Wilson is a lady of charming presence and manners and will doubtless be a great aid to her husband in his work here. They have two children, a daughter eleven years old and a son five. They have secured a house, on the north side of West College avenue, second west of Westminster street. Mr. Wilson has had a successful pastorate at Hillsboro and leaves that church in a flourishing condition and with a record of good work and the hope and expectation of all is that he will do well in his new-chosen field of labor.

of Jacksonville is such an organization. It ministers to the crippled and diseased children of our city. Because this school exists many a child is able to enter the public schools unhandicapped by deformity and disease. The school protects the homes and communities from which these children come, for many of them are tubercular. In the open air school these children have warm clothing, proper medical attention and at the same time they are being taught by competent teachers. And these children must have the proper quantity of pure, wholesome food. The open air school is maintained by the Jacksonville Public school board and the Anti-Tuberculosis league.

The Jacksonville school board can do nothing toward furnishing food for this school (during the present year). We must rely upon the gifts of interested people in Jacksonville and Morgan county. We appeal to the public to assist us by donating fruit vegetables, clothing, fuel or money. At the home coming this week arrangements will be made to receive these donations for the open air school at the woman's tent. Please bring us a bushel of apples or a bag of potatoes, or manifest your interest by giving us money to maintain this most worthy school. This appeal might be unnecessary if we had the Glacklen county fund to draw from. But until we have it we must rely upon your generosity. This is a debt we owe to unfortunate children of our community. Give not only of your abundance but out of the bigness of your hearts.

REPUBLICANS HELD PRE-ELECTION CONFERENCE

Committeemen Presented Favorable Reports From Various Precincts Campaign Will be of Vigorous Kind.

If members of the Republican Morgan county Central committee are not overly sanguine, party affairs thruout the county are in excellent condition for the coming election. A meeting of the central committee was held at the court house Saturday with Chairman Charles B. Graff presiding and F. L. Gregory, secretary. The meeting had been called by Chairman Graff to talk over plans for the campaign and the roll was read and each committeeman was asked about conditions in the precinct which he represents.

It is the idea of Chairman Graff that each committeeman knows best about the work necessary in his precinct and it was partly to obtain these facts that the meeting was called. As a result there will be public meetings with speeches in some of the precincts and in others there will be no such gatherings. One problem which faces each committeeman is with reference to the women's votes. It is uncertain just how much interest the women will show in the election, tho it is reasonable to suppose that having the opportunity to express their views for the first time on the presidency, that a great many will want to avail themselves of this privilege.

If there is a large women's vote in the county it will add very much to the uncertainty of the result, as between Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wilson. As all women must register for the election just the same as men it is easy to see that committeemen have even more affairs to look after this campaign than has been usual in the past.

At the conclusion of the conference several short addresses were made by Dr. A. H. Kenniebrew, Rev. H. H. DeWitt, Carl E. Robinson, Fred H. Rowe and John J. Reeve. There was a full attendance of the committee and the meeting bore testimony to the present status of party enthusiasm.

COMPANY IS ASKED ABOUT GAS PRESSURE

COMMISSION ORDERS HEARING
FOR OCTOBER 19TH TO BE HELD HERE.

Local Utility Company Must Show Cause Why Rulings as to Pressure Service Have Not Been Obeyed—Judge Thompson Will Preside—Record of Pressure Variations—Complaints Filed by Residents.

An order has been issued by the state utilities commission for the Jacksonville Railway & Light company to appear at the court house in this city October 19 and tell the commission why an order should not be entered directing the company to take immediate steps to improve its gas distribution system. The order was made by the commission after a number of complaints had been received and tests had been made by engineers of the commission. These tests were made in various parts of the city and show a high per cent of variation in the pressure. The service, it is understood, does not fulfill the conditions of the commission's ruling which is applicable to all utility companies. This rule establishing standards of service for gas and electric utilities became effective November 1, 1914, and a copy was at that time served upon the Jacksonville Railway & Light company. It is understood that Judge Thompson representing the state utility commission, will preside at the hearing which has been set.

Superintendent Gray of the Railway & Light company makes no secret of the fact that a great many complaints of service have been received. He said yesterday that he had not received a copy of the commission's order but he had been informed that such an order was about to issue. He said further that he had nothing whatever to do with the hearing and that he did not know the names of the persons who had filed complaints with the commission resulting in the order.

Will Refer to City's Action.

When the Railway & Light company petitioned the city council some months ago for authority to lay a gas main on Anna street, Fayette street and West State street, permission was refused on the ground that the city did not wish to grant any privileges to the company until the paving questions and other matters in which the city and the company are mutually interested are brought to some conclusion. It is presumed, therefore, that at the coming hearing it will be the effort of the company to show that the refusal of the council to permit them to lay the additional mains has been responsible for their inability to carry out the orders of the commission and provide the proper gas service.

Neither Superintendent Gray nor Mayor Rodgers had any formal statement to make with reference to the hearing and the suggestion as to what the company's statement will be is based simply on knowledge of the action taken by the council and the company some months ago. The order made by the commission is practically as follows:

Numerous Complaints.

"Since the entry of the order of July 11, 1916, in the case of Bowe et al. vs. Jacksonville Railway and Light company, No. 2695, before this commission, complaints of the gas service furnished in the city of Jacksonville by the Jacksonville Railway and Light company have come to the commission with such frequency and have been of such a nature as to indicate a prevalence of pressure trouble. Accordingly, an investigation has recently been made in the matter by the commission's engineering staff. During this investigation, company officials and city authorities were interviewed; the operating methods and records of the company were examined; the physical condition of the plant was ascertained; the company's test and complaint records were studied; and tests of the gas pressure were made with recording pressure gauges at various points distributed generally over the distribution system. The results of this investigation may be summarized as follows:

Wide Pressure Variation.

"It will be noted from the above table that every pressure variation shows a daily pressure variation at least as great as the maximum of 100 per cent allowed by Rule 17 of the commission's Rules Establishing Standards of Service for Gas and Electric Utilities, the variation in the majority of cases being vastly greater than the allowable maximum; furthermore, many of the charts taken show a pressure falling below the minimum of two inches allowed by the aforesaid rule. Two copies of the said 'Rules Establishing Standards of Service for Gas and Electric

Utilities,' effective Nov. 1, 1914, were served upon the Jacksonville Railway and Light company, and an acknowledgment of the receipt thereof was made by W. B. Miser, general superintendent of that company, under date of Oct. 29, 1914, but rule 17 as to pressure of gas has seemingly been disregarded by the company. This inadequate and variable pressure is, in the opinion of the commission's engineers, largely due to insufficient main capacity.

The Record Cases.

March—Low pressure, 22; meters reread, 11; miscellaneous meter trouble, 21; fixtures and piping, 11; appliances regulated, 30; miscellaneous, 37; total, 127.

April—Low pressure, 10; meters reread, 8; miscellaneous meter trouble, 21; fixtures and piping, 11; appliances regulated, 15; miscellaneous, 25; total, 104.

May—Low pressure, 11; meters reread, 16; miscellaneous meter trouble, 14; fixtures and piping, 32; appliances regulated, 15; miscellaneous, 24; total, 112.

June—Low pressure, 55; meters reread, 12; miscellaneous meter trouble, 27; fixtures and piping, 33; appliances regulated, 20; miscellaneous, 26; total, 173.

July—Low pressure, 149; meters reread, 15; miscellaneous meter trouble, 19; fixtures and piping, 39; appliances regulated, 8; miscellaneous, 31; total, 258.

August—Low pressure, 210; meters reread, 16; miscellaneous meter trouble, 16; fixtures and piping, 20; appliances regulated, 18; miscellaneous, 29; total, 310.

Total—Low pressure, 458; meters reread, 78; miscellaneous meter trouble, 118; fixtures and piping, 160; appliances regulated, 104; miscellaneous, 166; total, 1094.

Per cent—Low pressure, 42.6; meters reread, 7.1; miscellaneous meter trouble, 10.8; fixtures and piping, 14.6; appliances regulated, 9.5; miscellaneous, 15.2; total, 100.

The Causes Vary.

"An exact analysis of the causes of pressure trouble was found to be impossible on account of lack of specific information on many of the company's complaint record slips, as to the nature of the trouble found, compiled, however, and is presented in the following table:

March—water, 9; naphthalene, 1; rust, 16; low pressure, 7; total, 33.

April—Water, 3; naphthalene, 0; rust, 2; low pressure, 6; total, 10.

May—Water, 6; naphthalene, 2; rust, 0; low pressure, 3; total, 11.

June—Water, 13; naphthalene, 6; rust, 26; low pressure, 8; total, 55.

July—Water, 14; naphthalene, 5; rust, 94; low pressure, 36; total, 149.

August—Water, 13; naphthalene, 10; rust, 95; low pressure, 94; total, 210.

Total—Water, 58; naphthalene, 24; rust, 233; low pressure, 153; total, 408.

Percentage—Water, 12.4; naphthalene, 5.1; rust, 49.8; low pressure, 32.7; total, 100.

"3. The distribution system is inadequate and poorly arranged. Not only are many of the mains too small but the system as a whole is inadequately tied in. Moreover, a number of the drips are improperly constructed. Many of the services are of insufficient size, in several instances, one small service supplies two houses, with resultant trouble from insufficient pressure.

"From the complaints received and the conditions disclosed by the above mentioned investigation of its engineering staff, the commission regards the gas service of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company as unsatisfactory and not in compliance with the commission's service rules, and deems further orders in the premises to be imperative.

Wherefore the Jacksonville Railway and Light company is hereby cited to appear before this commission at the court house, Jacksonville, Morgan county, Illinois, on Thursday, Oct. 19, 1916, at 10 a. m., to show cause why an order should not be entered by this commission against said railway company, directing it to proceed at once to establish and maintain a grade of gas service which will meet the requirements of this commission's 'Rules Establishing Standards for Gas and Electric Utilities,' effective, Nov. 1, 1914.

"The said Jacksonville Railway and Light company is further cited to appear before this commission at the above mentioned time and place to show cause why an order should not be entered by this commission, directing said company to take immediate steps to rehabilitate its gas distribution system and to submit plans for the same to this commission and to proceed with said work of rehabilitation within a reasonable time to be fixed in such order.

"The said Jacksonville Railway and Light company is further cited to appear before this commission at the above named time and place, and show cause why this commission should not enter such other orders against said company, looking to rehabilitation of its gas plant and system of gas distribution, as shall seem proper to this commission in the premises.

"By resolution of this commission this 5th day of October, 1916.

Secretary.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The well nigh perfect baseball machine of the Boston American club triumphed over the Brooklyn Nationals here this afternoon 6 to 5 in the first game of the world's series, but marred its victory by skidding badly in the final inning. For eight innings the thirty odd thousand loyal supporters of the Red Sox sat back with a complacent air of satisfaction upon their features while the junior league champions romped thru their National League rivals to a lead of six to one.

Then the Carrigans began to wobble, lead by Pitcher Ernest Shore and Brooklyn amassed four tallies and appeared on the verge of wresting the initial game from the American Leaguers.

This surprising break was the feature of an otherwise ordinary baseball game. Before the threatening rush of Brooklyn developed in their final turn at bat, the contest appeared to indicate that the Boston players would swing thru a easy conquest, and the break in the steady work of the local club furnished the thrill needed to fix the memory of the struggle in the minds of the fans without leaving a sting. Once the Red Sox were able to check the rush of their rivals. When Daubert, the first Brooklyn batsman stepped to the plate in the opening half of the ninth inning, the spectators were beginning to leave Braves' Field, but they halted in their tracks as Shore passed the Brooklyn captain and Casey Stengel sent him to second with a clean single. A lone Brooklyn rooster began to beat upon a tin pan and there were cries of encouragement for the National League champions, but the cheers died away as Wheat forced Daubert at third.

Shore, however, could not control the ball as he had done earlier in the game, and hit Cutshaw. Mowrey arose to the occasion with a bouncer which Janvrin could not handle and Stengel and Wheat crossed the plate. Olson beat out an infield hit and Chief Myers fouled out. Merkle batting for Pfeffer outwaited shore and walked, forcing in Cutshaw with the third run of the inning. Manager Carrigan ordered Shore from the box and substituted Mays. Meyers, Brooklyn's lead-off batter scratched an infield hit, scoring Mowrey, and the Nationals were within one run of tying the score with the bases still loaded. Daubert came to the plate for the second time in the inning and every one of the thousands of spectators held his breath as the Brooklyn captain hit an ugly bouncer to Scott. The shortstop speared the ball as it leaped from the turf and without pausing even to sight, whipped it to Hoblitzel. Daubert, sliding into the bag head first appeared to arrive with the flashing ball, but there was a great cheer when Umpire O'Day, who fairly overhung the bag signalled the third out and the ending of the game.

Rightfielder Harry Hooper uncovered the star individual play of the day in the fourth session when he made a sensational running catch off Cutshaw's twisting fly and nipped Wheat trying to score from third. The ball left Cutshaw's bat as it undecided where it was going and Hooper had to sprint well over toward the foul line just back of first base before he could get his hands on it. The effort caused him to slip to the turf in a sitting position but he was up like a flash and while still rising hurled the ball straight as a bullet to Cady. The latter slammed it on Wheat's ankle as he reached for the plate with his foot at the end of a perfect hook slide. The sun bothered the outfielders badly at times and several hits were lost that otherwise would have gone as sure outs.

Boston tallied her first run in the third after two were out. Janvrin struck out and Meyers dropped the third strike, but threw the batter out at first. The throw was a bad one and nearly got away from Daubert. It was the second time Janvrin had fanned. Walker also struck out. Hoblitzel hit to right field for three bases and came home when Lewis hit the first ball pitched down the left field line for a two bagger. Brooklyn tied the score in the fourth inning. Stengel singled down the left field foul line and came all the way home of Wheat's sacrifice hit for three bases to the right field bleachers.

Boston in her half of the fifth again went into the lead. With two outs and two strikes Hooper raised what would ordinarily be an easy out but Meyers lost the ball in the run and did not see it until it struck the ground. Hooper got a two bagger. Janvrin advanced him to third on a sacrifice. Mowrey to Cutshaw who covered first. Walker singled down the left field foul line and Hooper scored.

In the last half of the seventh inning, Janvrin first up hit a beautiful two bagger down past third base. Olson made his second error when he fumbled Walker's grounder. Janvrin taking third. Cutshaw, anxious to make a double play, fumbled Hoblitzel's grounder and Janvrin scored amid great cheering. Walker took second on the play. Both runners advanced on Lewis' sacrifice Daubert to Cutshaw. Cutshaw ran in for Gardner's grounder and threw too late to head off Walker. Hoblitzel moved on to third. Scott sent a long sacrifice fly to Stengel and Hoblitzel tallied the third run of the inning. Cady did not wait for four balls on this trip to the plate but grounded out Cutshaw to Daubert. Jeff Pfeffer went in to pitch for Brooklyn in the second half of the eighth and Boston added another run to its score. Shore died to Wheat. Hooper walked and sprinted to third on Janvrin's single to right. In an effort to catch Hooper going to third Stengel threw wild and Hooper scored.

MAVERICKS

With football games and festivals, And working hard for pay, It makes us just get up and hump So this is all you get today.

We much fear that we will have to eat goose again on Thanksgiving.

Everybody in Nebraska was delighted to see President Wilson so dispatches tell us. However, Mr. Bryan was not in the state.

We much fear we won't be able to stand this week with the world's baseball series and the fall festival all going on at the same time.

To our notion Gov. Dunne ranks with the leading optimists of the country.

Stories from New York tell us that there is a milk shortage in that city. So far as we could learn there has always been a shortage of real milk in that burg.

President Wilson addressed a non partisan meeting at Omaha but he could not refrain from saying something about peace.

A Litchfield woman lost her husband at the Velled Prophet parade in St. Louis. We know lots of women to whom it would be a blessing if their husbands got lost.

A Tallula man found a copper head snake in a bunch of bananas. Tallula is dry too.

We haven't any sympathy for that Chicago man who was taken into an alley by a holdup man and robbed of $25 cash and jewelry. Perhaps he had lifted it from some unsuspecting transient.

THIRTY-FOUR GOVERNORS TO BE ELECTED THIS FALL

Contest Very Different From 1912 Because of Disappearance of Third Party.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—In thirty-four states a governor and all, or nearly all, the elective state officers are to be chosen in the elections which take place four weeks from next Tuesday. The elections will differ noticeably from those of 1912 inasmuch as the disappearance of the Progressives as an organized electoral force will be held, the Democrats to fight for the state offices as was the case before the birth of the so-called third party. The Prohibition and Socialist parties have named candidates for the principal offices in many of the states, and in some of the states there are several minor tickets in the field. In all of the states, however, it is regarded as a practical certainly that the new governors and other principal officers will be either Democrats or Republicans.

Following are the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor in the thirty-four states where gubernatorial elections will be held:

Alabama—Republican, Tom Campbell; Democrat, George W. P. Hunt (incumbent).

Arkansas—Republican, Wallace Townsend; Democrat, C. H. Brough.

Colorado—Republican, George A. Carlson (incumbent); Democrat, Pullis C. Gunter.

Connecticut—Republican, Marcus H. Holcomb (incumbent); Democrat, Morris E. Beardsley.

Delaware—Republican, John G. Townsend; Democrat, James S. Hughes.

Florida—Republican, George A. Allen; Democrat, W. V. Knott.

Indiana—Republican, James P. Goodrich; Democrat, John A. M. Adair.

Iowa—Republican, W. L. Harding; Democrat, E. T. Meredith.

Kansas—Republican, Arthur Capper (incumbent); Democrat, W. C. Lansdon.

Massachusetts—Republican, Samuel W. McCall (incumbent); Democrat, Frederick W. Mansfield.

Michigan—Republican, Albert E. Sleeper; Democrat, Edwin F. Ewert.

Minnesota—Republican, John A. Burnquist (incumbent); Democrat, Cyrus H. King.

Missouri—Republican, John E. Swanger; Democrat, Frederick D. Gardiner.

Montana—Republican, Frank J. Edwards; Democrat, Samuel V. Stewart (incumbent).

Nebraska—Republican, Abraham L. Sutton; Democrat, Keith Neville.

New Hampshire—Republican, Henry W. Keyes; Democrat, John C. Hutchins.

New Jersey—Republican, Walter E. Edge; Democrat, H. Otto Witt.

New Mexico—Republican, Holm O. Bursum; Democrat, E. C. de Baca.

New York—Republican, Charles S. Whitman (incumbent); Democrat, Samuel S. Seabury.

North Carolina—Republican, Frank A. Linney; Democrat, T. W. Bickett.

North Dakota—Republican, Lynn Frazer; Democrat, D. H. McArthur.

Ohio—Republican, Frank B. Wulls (incumbent); Democrat, James M. Cox.

Rhode Island—Republican, R. Livingston Beckman (incumbent); Democrat, Addison P. Munroe.

South Carolina—Democrat, Richard I. Manning (incumbent).

South Dakota—Republican, Peter Norbeck; Democrat, F. D. Morcom.

CHURCH ADVERTISING CONVENTION

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 7.—All arrangements have been completed for the second large church-advertising convention in the country, to be held in this city during the three days beginning tomorrow.

The meeting is designed to gather ministers, laymen, heads of men's clubs and superintendents of Sunday schools from all over New England and eastern New York.

The convention will supplement the work of that held in Philadelphia earlier in the year toward drawing widespread attention of churchmen to the movement inaugurated in Chicago last year.

Well-known advertising men will assist the pastors in planning campaigns to fill their churches morning and evening. Stories of churches that have increased their attendance 100 per cent in a few years will be told by clergymen who have accomplished such results.

John Snyder, George Wackerle, John Smedley, Harry Strawn, Herman Visser and family, K. Kernan and L. C. Luby arrived in the city yesterday from Alexandria.

NEW YORK POLITICAL LETTER.

Tariff the Great Issue.—The tariff is one of the greatest issues of this campaign, according to Hon. Myron T. Herrick, former Ambassador to France. "In all the manufacturing states employers and employees are asking the same question: What will happen to us if the war ends before the Underwood bill is revised?" says Mr. Herrick, and he adds, "The same question is being asked by the farmers in every agricultural community. They have not forgotten what the Underwood bill did to the prices of their products before the war created the present extraordinary demand, and they have no desire to see a return of those prices. In Ohio, the skilled workmen keenly recall the hard times that followed the passage of the Underwood bill. Why, my own city of Cleveland had to raise $160,000 to provide work for men who were thrown out of employment in order to save them from bread lines and soup-kitchens. The end of the European war, which certainly will not be prolonged beyond the end of the administration elected in November, will subject the financial and industrial interests of this country to a severe strain which will be felt by every business man and woman who votes in this election. Right now, the countries from which we chiefly import are cut off by the war our imports are the largest they have ever been in the history of the country. At the present rate, our imports for the present year will exceed those of any recent year by $5,000,000."

Wilson Wins.—President Wilson has won his personally conducted election—not in the United States but in Nicaragua. Emiliano Chamorro, Mr. Wilson's choice, was elected by a light vote. The polling places were policed by armed American marines and the supporters of Brias, the Liberal candidate, were afraid to approach the polls. This is the official information which has come to Washington thru diplomatic channels, and it has been confirmed by Rear Admiral Caperton, in command of the American squadron designated to insure Chamorro's election. Admiral Caperton says, "Our position is that the election should be honestly and openly conducted and the action of those who refrained from voting was unjustifiable." The foolish Nicaraguans, knowing that President Wilson had chosen their candidate for President and had sent armed forces of the United States to supervise the election, were afraid to vote. They actually feared Woodrow Wilson's passionate "enthusiasm for liberty."

Wilson and Mexico.—"Since Carranza's recognition we have seen Americans who have gone into Mexico on peaceful errands murdered; we have seen our own towns upon the border raided and Americans slain on American soil. These outrages prompted the President to send our own troops into Mexico, and this course cannot be otherwise construed than as a recognition of the fact that the de facto government in Mexico, recognized by ourselves and by other nations, is not fulfilling the duty which one government owes to another. Mexico is a bad neighbor now. There is no use denying this. We live at peace with Canada on our northern border, without a soldier along the 3,000 miles of land, while, as a matter of necessity, we are obliged to keep an armed force on our Mexican border all of the time, and have now gathered there the largest army assembled in the United States since the Civil War. This striking comment on "watchful waiting," President Wilson's recognition of Carranza, and the fallacy that "he has kept us out of war," does not emanate from a hostile Republican. The words were penned by none other than Mr. Wilson's own Secretary of the Interior, the Hon. Franklin K. Lane, in a series of articles now running in various newspapers.

Impertinent Miners.—Impudent and presumptuous American citizens who have gone into Mexico, risking their lives and capital, and in many instances the lives of their families, have had the presumption to disturb the serene and friendly proceedings of the Mexican conference by thrusting before it a record of Carranza's depredations, his confiscations and other outrages on Americans and their property interests. They actually demanded protection of life and property; provision for transportation of their products and foodstuffs and taxes which are neither prohibitive nor confiscatory. And they had the temerity to admit that they represented investments in Mexico amounting to upwards of $250,000,000. What they expected to accomplish by such rude interruption and such a confession it is difficult to conceive in view of the fact that all Americans of their class have been informed by the State Department, during this administration, that they are mere adventurers, unpatriotically seeking to make money outside of their own country. Indeed, only last Saturday President Wilson referred to them as creatures so base that they desire "that kind of law and order which some investors in Mexico consider most to their advantage."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Orville Adkisson has returned from Roseville, where she was called by the illness and death of her mother. A Roseville paper in the account of Mrs. Hamilton's death and funeral says:

Mrs. B. F. Hamilton died at the family home in Roseville on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, at 2 o'clock. Her death was not unexpected, although her last serious illness was of about a week's duration. She suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered.

Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton had been at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Irving, for some four weeks and had returned home just two weeks before her death.

Mrs. Hamilton joined the Christian church when a young girl and was for a long time associated with the old Bedford church. She was a faithful and consistent member, constant in attendance upon all the church services. She was a great lover of flowers, and for many years her home was pointed out to visitors on account of the great number of shrubs and flowers. There were few of her friends who do not recall a gift of flowers or vegetables or fruit from Mrs. Hamilton's hands.

She possessed a great loving mother's heart that reached out to the motherless and friendless, and still had love and compassion left to bestow upon any and all who came her way. She was a great home lover and hospitality personified. She was associated with the W. C. T. U. in its earlier activities, and did much

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, FROM CONSTIPATION

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Clean Liver and Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

in days past in the temperance cause.

Sarah Frances Reaugh was born at Columbus, Ill., on May 19, 1843. She was married to Benjamin F. Hamilton at Quincy, Ill., on Nov. 15, 1860, and has been a loyal helpmeet to him for almost fifty-six years. Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton lived for many years at Dallas City, moving from there to Terre Haute, and about 26 years ago came to Roseville where they have since made their home.

To the union of Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton have been born eight children six of whom are living and there are besides the children, 28 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren, making a total of forty-eight living descendants. The living children are: Mrs. Oweness S. Fisher, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Mary L. Lowden of LaHarpe; Leander Hamilton of Seattle, Wash.; Orville Hamilton of Roseville; Mrs. Jessie Frances Adkisson of Jacksonville; Mrs. Maybelle "Dot" Irving of Roseville.

The funeral was held at the late home at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. W. B. Oliver, pastor of the Christian church was in charge and delivered the discourse.

Two solos were sung by Mrs. Norman E. Pinney.

Honorary pall bearers were surviving charter member associates of Mrs. Hamilton in the W. C. T. U. of Roseville; Mesdames M. L. Worden, M. J. Sovereign, Flora Aylesworth and Mary Lewis.

The active bearers were Harry, Ben and Gail Lowden, Chis Brandt, John Edmunds and Arthur Irving.

The funeral party consisted of Dr. Hamilton, Edwin Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Irving, Orville Hamilton and family, John Lowden and family, W. B. Oliver, Orville Adkisson and family.

The funeral cortege was headed by the auto hearse and automobiles were used in conveying the funeral party to Terre Haute, where the burial was made in the family lot in which the only two deceased children of the venerable couple are buried.

◆◆◆◆◆ ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES ◆◆◆◆◆

Mr. Clay Apple will lead the Devotional Service at Academy Hall on Sunday evening. The topic will be Consecration of college opportunities.

Committees representing the various student religious associations held a meeting in President Rammelkamp's office a few days ago to consider some plans connected with a series of special meetings which will probably be held early in December. The Faculty granted a petition last spring from the student organizations asking for the privilege of holding such meetings.

Mrs. Rammelkamp and Miss Scott made a visit to Pleasant Plains and Springfield on Saturday.

The Athletic Board of Control has decided to make the game with St. Louis University on Saturday, October 20th, the annual home-coming game. Special invitations will probably again be sent out to the alumni and others.

The increasing number of students has necessitated the purchase of extra chairs and tables for the College Library.

The large registration for the class in organic chemistry has made it necessary to put in an extra desk in the advanced chemical laboratory.

The section in freshman French is unusually large this year.

A meeting of the men interested in organizing a college band was held in the gymnasium after the game on Friday.

APPRECIATION OF MISS KNOFF'S WORK

The Springfield News-Tribune, of October 5, 1916, gives this account of the paintings by Miss Knopf, which are now on exhibition at the Springfield Art Association.

"The work of Miss Nellie A. Knopf comes as a delightful surprise. It is lacking in all the things that usually damn the feminine artist. In the first place, it is freely and boldly handled. Her color scheme is neither over-robust, nor is it hyper-sensitive in its refinement. As a whole, it is good, sound, craftsmanlike work, well drawn, easily painted and with healthy color values without any striving after effects or mannerisms.

The little marines, "Ogonquit" and "The Two Bathers" are fresh, sunny and singing with color and light. "An Opal Morning" and "Misty Morning" are delicate bits of color work, not in the least forced in effect. "Forest Trees," a bit of pine woods, with the sunlight drifting through the brown needles, is perhaps the most unusual picture on the walls.

The following is taken from the Illinois State Register, of October 6, 1916:

"The pictures by Miss Nellie A. Knopf, which were also exhibited, showed bold and daring treatment with excellent results. 'Brewing Storm, Maine Coast,' 'From a High Place' and 'Sunlit Trees' are among the best ones now hung."

Miss Knopf's many friends will be delighted to note the recognition given to her excellent work.

Quite a number of years ago, I had stomach trouble so badly that I was unable to eat anything and also had been given up by other doctors. I called on Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist. He said that if I would do my part that he felt sure that I could get cured. I am glad to say that for the last seven or eight years I have been able to eat most anything I want without any distress whatever, and work hard all the while, showing that the cure is complete. MANY FEATURES FOR WOMEN THIS WEEK

THEIR INTERESTS FIGURE STRONGLY IN THE FESTIVAL PLANS.

Hostess at Women's Tent Named for Each Day—Exhibits Will Prove Very Interesting—Ribbons to be Awarded to Winners in Horse and Colt Show—Complete Program Announced for Monday and Tuesday.

Central park was a busy scene Saturday where preparations were actively in progress for the Fall Festival and Home Coming which begins tomorrow. Various booths and display buildings sprang into existence some of them from canvas and others erected by carpenters. All that remains now is good weather to have the festival a great success. It will not be an easy matter, even with the special attractions of the week, to greatly increase the crowd in Jacksonville Saturday. There were really thousands of visitors about the square and adjacent streets and more automobiles were parked in the business district that ever before.

Congressman Foss Wednesday. As announced yesterday, although Wednesday is Republican day, when Congressman George E. Foss is to make an address, the coming of state candidates Thursday night will give the Republicans a second inning. The candidates' train was scheduled to arrive at 9:50 Thursday night and as there will be a strong chance of the train being late it was suggested yesterday that arrangement be made to secure one or two of the speakers at an earlier hour, possibly by bringing the train from White Hall by automobile.

The interests of women are to receive very special attention during the week. A headquarters tent will be maintained in the park with a rest room designed especially for women and children, and there will be a check room where women may check parcels or clothing without charge. It is the desire to have the various activities which are of interest to women centralized at this tent. The special exhibits will include the poster work submitted in the recent contest in the city schools. This contest was in charge of Miss Harriet Seibert, director of art in the public schools, and many of the posters submitted are said to be of special merit and the whole will form a really interesting exhibit.

Anti-Tuberculosis Exhibit. The anti-tuberculosis and open air school exhibit will be in charge of Miss Martha Coale, public health nurse, and will be of a kind to make clear to the public the work which is now being carried on so effectively. Gifts are to be received during the week for the open air school and Associated Charities. Different club women have been assigned as hostesses for different days during the week and they will be assisted by others.

The ones chosen for special days are as follows:

Monday: Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, hostess.

Tuesday: Mrs. W. D. Doying, hostess.

Wednesday: Miss Faye Rodgers, hostess.

Thursday: Mrs. Ben Lorton, hostess.

Friday: Committee of women from county, hostesses.

Saturday: U. C. T. ladies, hostesses.

Thursday has been designated as women's county federation day and the program will be in charge of women. There will be several concerts by the Mercedosa band and at 2:30 o'clock an address will be given by Miss Grace Osborne of Indiana, who is a very forceful and interesting speaker. Saturday at 1 p. m., at the Peacock Inn the Woman's club will hold the annual luncheon, when an address will be given by Miss Anne Hinrichsen, delegate to the biennial convention of the Woman's clubs in New York City.

The Standard of Value and Quality

Do You Know of a Better Investment?

If you were entirely satisfied that a certain high grade security would substantially increase in value during the next sixty days—would you purchase it?

Yes?

Well, then, why not consider the Paige Fairfield "Six-46" in precisely the same light?

It is only a matter of weeks now before the price of this famous model will be increased.

Do you know of any better way to invest $1375 with absolute certainty of profits in money and personal satisfaction?

As you know, the costs of material and labor have jumped skyward during the past year. To meet this condition, we must charge more for our product—because we positively refuse to sacrifice quality no matter what the commodity prices may be.

So, as a clean-cut business proposition, can you afford to overlook such a rare opportunity?

Remember, the Paige Company challenges any manufacturer in the industry to produce a car—within three hundred dollars of the Paige price—which offers as much luxury, comfort and all around dependability as the Fairfield "Six-46". This challenge stands uncontested.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

OCTOBER 8.

Finley J. Shepard, prominent New York capitalist and railway official, is 49 years old today. Mr. Shepard was born at Saybrook, Conn., and was the son of a clergyman. He was educated at the Seabury Institute in Saybrook, and began his railroad career in the Middle West, with the N. P. Railway at St. Paul. In 1905 after having been for some years superintendent of the Santa Fe Coast Lines, and located at Los Angeles, he engaged in business in Chicago, remaining there five years. In 1911, he became connected with the Missouri Pacific, and the following year was transferred to the New York offices of the company, and of which he is vice president and director, while also holding office in several other important railway systems. In January, 1913, Mr. Shepard married Helen Gould, heiress to the Jay Gould millions and famous philanthropist, and with his marriage became one of the managers of the vast Gould estate. Some months ago Mr. and Mrs. Shepard adopted a waif from a foundling asylum, a boy for whose kin the most exhaustive research has been fruitless, and have made him the heir of their great fortune.

Tarleton H. Bean, noted zoologist, 70 years old today.

Clifford W. Barnes, capitalist and sociologist, active in Hull House settlement in Chicago, 52 years old today.

BALLOONS READY FOR NATIONAL RACE.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 6.—All arrangements are practically completed for the start of the national balloon race from this city tomorrow. With the ballast laid, the gas mains working, and all the balloons ready to be inflated, the entrants are ready to fly at an hour's notice. Muskogee is already filled with visitors in attendance on the annual fair, and the indications are that the crowd tomorrow will be the largest ever seen here.

The balloon race is to be conducted under the auspices of the National Balloon Association, which has arranged the competition to keep up interest in this country until the close of the European war, when it is expected the international flights will be derived. This is the first year in which the start has been made from a city the size of Muskogee, but conditions abroad have prevented foreign entries, so that the great natural gas supply here for filling the big bags was sufficient inducement, together with this city's central location.

The balloons will be released at five-minute intervals. The entrants include Captain H. E. Honeywell, piloting the "Uncle Sam," W. P. Assman, in the "Miss Sophia," E. Cole, in the "Miss Muskogee," P. J. McCullough in the "St. Louis IV," and John Berry in the "Million Population Club."

The Pittsburgh club of the defunct Federal league owes $173,044. Which shows that the high cost of living has nothing on the high cost of pasturing.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

As has been the custom for several years, the members of the Senior and Junior classes are spending the week end at Lake Matanzas. They will occupy the Elsinore Cottage on this occasion.

The Dramatic Club enjoyed a delightful picnic at Nichols Park Monday afternoon.

Many students are taking advantage of the delightful weather and are using the tennis courts constantly.

The following parents are among those who are visitors for the week end at the College: Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Barton of Jamaica, Mrs. J. B. Hostetter, of Davenport, Iowa; Mrs. H. J. Goodale, of Aurora; Mrs. J. W. McIntyre, of Catlin, and Mrs. E. G. Coon, of Rantoul.

President Harker is attending the sessions of the Southern Illinois Conference, which is meeting at Robinson, Ill. He will address the Conference with reference to the College.

Thursday afternoon Miss Nellie A. Knopf, head of the School of Fine Arts, gave a talk before the Springfield Art Association, on her summer sketching. This was the opening of the exhibit of pictures by Mr. Wallace DeWolf, of Chicago, and Miss Knopf, of the College. Her work has been much appreciated by the art lovers of Springfield, and in another column of the paper will be found a copy of a statement which appeared in the Springfield paper concerning her work.

The Sophomores entertained the Freshmen in the old chapel Saturday evening, at a backward party. Everything was done backwards and a good time was reported by all.

Work on the new gymnasium is progressing very satisfactorily. The heavy iron beams are all in position. The girls weigh three thousand pounds each, and have to be handled with great care.

Women can vote for president, university trustees, member of the board of equalization and county surveyor. They are required to register just the same as men voters. October 17 and 31 are the registration dates.

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

WHEAT PRICES TAKE AN UPWARD SAILING

Denials that Gerard's visit to United States Has Anything to do With Peace Causes Advance.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Wheat prices took an upward sailing today influenced chiefly by emphatic official denials that Ambassador Gerard's visit to the United States had anything to do with peace proposals. The market closed strong 1½ to 3½ cents higher with December at $1.59½ and May $1.58½.

Corn gained ½ cent, finished unchanged to a shade lower and provisions unchanged to 37 cents higher.

Liverpool advices telling of fears of renewed submarine activity were ignored and the day's business was over long before word was received that a German undersea war-craft had come entirely across the Atlantic and apparently was in a position to work unopposed havoc in shipping. All unimpaired of such a contingency, the wheat pit gave attention to the bullish news at hand which besides the peace denials included rumors that the British government would commandeer the Canadian surplus supply of wheat. Corn rallied with wheat. At first the market had a tendency to ease off owing to the fine weather and because of prospects of a larger crop movement next week. Oats averaged a trifle lower despite the strength of other grains. Receipts of oats here this week were more than responding time last year.

Higher prices on hogs afforded basis for a rise in provisions. Lard touched the highest level in 40 years.

SUGGESTIONS TO SICK WOMEN

How Many Are Restored To Health.

First.—Almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine most successful in relieving female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates and strengthens the organism; it overcomes disease.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Third.—The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

NATIONAL SOCIETY HEAD TO SPEAK IN CITY TODAY

Dr. L. E. Sellers of Indianapolis, Noted Temperance Worker, to be at Central Christian Church.

A temperance worker of national prominence will be in the city today in the person of Dr. L. E. Sellers of Indianapolis, Ind., who will fill the pulpit at Central Christian church at the hour of the forenoon service. Dr. Sellers is secretary of the National Temperance Society of the Disciples of Christ and is on his way to Des Moines, Ia., to attend the international convention.

Dr. L. E. Sellers

Dr. Sellers is a steady worker and a man of thoroughgoing ability. He is earnest in his work and full of zeal he is in no way an extremist and is free from those faults which have lessened the efficacy of much temperance work in times past. As has often been pointed out, the temperance movement suffers greatly from the uninformed zeal of its friends. Dr. Sellers is a man well versed in the social and economic aspects of the liquor question. He is an able speaker and a man of force.

The Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of the church, will fill the pulpit at the evening service. There will be special music at both services.

Lecture Series Announced
A series of six stereopticon and motion picture lectures will soon be given by the pastor on questions of social and civic import. Rev. Mr. Pontius will give these lectures weekly. The first number will be "Women and Children in Toil," Monday evening, October 23. None of the lectures will be given on Sunday.

A HANDSOME COMPLIMENT

In a recent issue of the Merchants Record and Show Window magazine of Chicago is a picture of the Christmas show window of Myers Brothers of this city. The trimming was the work of Wm. T. Suhy, whose skill in that line is well known in this city. Many will recall the beautiful appearance the window made and will be pleased to know that it was so well recognized for to have the picture in that magazine and the flattering notice and description accompanying was a fine compliment.

Miss Minnie Wyatt has gone to Greene county for a visit with relatives.
